Bobcats and Grizzlies Will Struggle at Butte In Thirty-fifth Contest

Strongest State College Squad in Years to Face Mighty University Eleven in Annual Classic at Clark Park Stadium Saturday at 3

Pulling out a new bag of tricks with which to dazzle the Montana State college Bobcats in the thirty-fifth annual Grizzly-Bobcat game, the state university football squad goes to Butte Saturday. Scores of students and supporters of the team will make the trip to Butte by way of a special train leaving Missoula early Saturday morning.

Plans approved by Central board include the year's first SOS Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock, a convocation Friday morning at 11 o'clock, and a long parade of the state university band and students in Butte before the game.

Special Train Scheduled

The special train leaves the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific depot at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning, reaching Butte at 11:30 o'clock. The parade will start at either the Butte depot or the Finlen hotel. The game is scheduled for 3 o'clock, and the special will return to Missoula at 8:30 Saturday evening.

Train tickets at $3 for the round trip may be purchased at the station or at a special desk in Main hall to be set up Thursday. Tickets for the game can be procured by all students with activity tickets. The Butte game stub may be exchanged at a special desk in Main hall during the remainder of the week for a ticket usable at the stadium in Butte.

Convocation Is Thursday

Thursday's convocation will feature a 30-minute appearance of a large delegation from the Butte Chamber of Commerce, the introduction of Coach Doug Fessenden and members of the squad, and songs and yells led by Yell King Ray Whitcomb and Yell Duke Nick Marlana. The convocation Friday morning will feature talks by Coach Fessenden, President James Meyers of the A. S. U. M., and Dean J. E. Miller. The SOS will be held in front of Main hall while the convocation is to be held in the men's gymnasium.

The complete roster of the Grizzly band will be announced Friday by Stanley Teel, director, who is optimistic concerning plans for the band this year. He believes it will be one of the best bands in the history of the state university.

Adams Praises Bobcats

Word of the powerful Bobcat team was brought back Sunday by Harry Adams, who scouted the Bobcats in their game against Brigham Young university.

"The Bobcats have the biggest, smoothest playing and scrappiest team that I have seen from Bozeman for many years," Adams says. "The team averages 180 pounds and the line is tremendously powerful."

The fracas promises to be one of the best played between the old rivals. The Grizzly team returned yesterday after demonstrating its power against Southern California, and the Bobcats trounced Brigham Young in their opening game.

According to reports of Kirk Badgley, athletic manager, the ticket sale is very promising. Townspeople who wish to secure tickets may get them at his office.

Senator James Murray Pledges Support In Efforts to Secure New Buildings

Butte Legislator Visits Montana Campus and Inspects Journalism, Chemistry Structures

United States Senator James E. Murray of Butte, arrived in Missoula last Friday to pay a three-day visit to the Montana state university campus and Fort Missoula. These two institutions are greatly in need of federal funds to construct new buildings which are either wholly lacking or are inadequate for present needs. University authorities have applied for federal loans to construct a new journalism building and a chemistry and pharmacy building. "I quite agree," said Senator Murray, "with the statements of university officials that both the journalism shack and the present chemistry building are greatly in need of replacement. Increased enrollments necessitate the construction of modern structures which are large enough to accommodate bigger classes and house equipment which is absolutely required. I shall do my best to convince Washington authorities of the advisability

Dramatic Talent Tryouts Coming On Wednesday

Masquers Issue Call for New Acting and Technical Staff Material.

With the opening of the theater season at the state university, new talent is at a premium, according to Bernard Hewitt, director of dramatics. Both actors and technical staff members are needed.

Men's acting tryouts will take place from 4 to 6 o'clock on Wednesday and Thursday, October 2 and 3. Women may try out from 4 to 6 o'clock on Wednesday and Thursday, October 9 and 10. No preparation is needed. A list has been posted on the bulletin board in the Little Theatre for those students interested in the production end of Masquer plays. Under this heading comes stage, lighting, business, costumes, properties and make-up.

There will be ample opportunity to take part in Masquer productions as the fall quarter play, "More Died Than Men," carries a cast of 75 people. Men are especially needed.

"More Died Than Men," a drama of the tragic outcome of Custer's last Stand at the Battle of the Little Big Horn, by Paul Treichler, will have its premier at the opening of the Student Union building on or about November 22. Treichler, who wrote the play while he was a graduate student at the university, carries the story of General George Custer from just after the Battle of the Washita to the massacre at the Little Big Horn. Five settings are used in the production, the last and most effectual, showing the destruction of Custer's command.

Winter quarter, Beaumont and Fletcher's Shakespearian comedy, "The Knight of the Burning Pestle" will be a worthy successor to "Twelfth Night" of last winter quarter. Eugene O'Neill's great American comedy, "Ah, Wilderness" will be presented spring quarter.

All three of these productions will take place in the magnificent new theater in the Student Union building.

Mr. Morrell, who was prominent in campus dramatic circles, was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. Miss Warden was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta.

Robert Clark, 6; Orville Skones, 2; and Dick Karnes, 2; Fern Spicher, costumes mistress, 5; Lela Woodgerd, 5; and Alice Woodgerd, properties, 4; Nan Shoemaker, makeup, 1; Stan Koch, publicity, 3; Joimae Pollock, 4; Jane Boden, 3; Rosemary Reidy, 1; Pam Ferguson, 1; Beulah Stordick, 1; Marion Furlong, 1; Betty Eiselein, 1, comprised the business staff.

Student Body Meets Football Squad Monday

Grizzly Gridders Are Given Tremendous Welcome Upon Return

Coach Douglas Fessenden and his traveling Grizzly squad returned yesterday from the football combat with Southern California, glorious in its 9 to 6 defeat at the hands of the men of Troy. A large delegation of students and townspeople were on hand at the depot to welcome the Montana football warriors upon their return.

Two members of the squad, Herbert Brandenburg, star end, and Charles Whittinghill, regular quarterback, were left behind in a Los Angeles hospital in order that they might undergo medical attention for injuries suffered in the Trojan game. Coach Fessenden stated that he believed Brandenburg's injury was of a minor variety and hoped that he might be able to rejoin the squad within a short time. However, Whittinghill's shoulder injury is of a more serious nature and it is likely he may be unable to play again during the present season. The loss of these two men will greatly handicap the Grizzlies this Saturday, adequate replacements for their positions being unavailable.

"We should have won the game," said Doug, yesterday afternoon. "Both Southern California's field goal and one touchdown were the result of early season inexperience on our part. Popovich broke loose twice on touchdown romps and both times he was called back for stepping outside. Neither time were Southern California players aware that he had stepped outside the playing field. He wasn't out more than three inches."

"We certainly were highly commended by all the coast papers as well. One said 'Montana was tougher than a cafeteria steak'; another 'Southern California was looking for a tough season opener and certainly got it. It was just a little too much of a football battle to suit anybody.'"

Three teams saw service against Montana according to Coach Fessenden and all were approximately equal in strength. Propst and Thompson particularly starred for the Trojans. Farnum at guard was outstanding for Montana with Pomajevich also being in on every play. Popovich, Blastic, Szakach and Whittinghill were commended by Fessenden for their excellent play.

Former Student Given Pennsylvania Fellowship

Celia Caffin, who was graduated from the journalism school at the state university in 1934, has been awarded a fellowship at the University of Pennsylvania in the school of social work.

Miss Caffin will be a member of the staff of the juvenile delinquency department of the Philadelphia social work organization, when she completes her work at the university.

Tom Taylor, a graduate from the journalism school in 1934, visited in Missoula for a few days last week before leaving for Spokane, Wash., where he accepted a position on the Spokane Press.

Tickets Necessary For Butte Game

Stubs on A. S. U. M. Cards Must Be Exchanged Before Leaving

Tom Roe, business manager of the A. S. U. M., announced yesterday that students planning to attend the Grizzly-Bobcat game Saturday, October 5, must obtain admission tickets Thursday and Friday of this week.

Reserved seat tickets will be exchanged for the stubs attached to the A. S. U. M. activity tickets. This exchange must be made in Main hall between 1 and 5 o'clock Thursday or from 9 till 5 Friday. Activity tickets must be presented with the admission ticket. Activity tickets alone will not be honored.

Presentation of tickets by any but the rightful owner will mean surrender of activity ticket and collection of full admission.

Two state university alumnae have been appointed to teaching positions in Missoula county high school. They are Ione Lake and Fay Fauts.

Miss Lake was graduated in 1930 with a B. A. degree in English. She is the new adviser of the Konah, high school newspaper, and teaches commercial subjects.

Miss Fauts, who was graduated with a B. A. degree in Botany in 1927, teaches science.

NOTICE

Freshman women who wish to attend the Marionette show at the Missoula county high school auditorium tomorrow night may do so, it was announced at the dean of women's office yesterday. However, no dates will be allowed.

University Students Will Receive $2,925 Federal Aid Each Month

Deans' Council Will Announce Successful Applicants This Week; Work Is Limited to 8 Hours a Day; Maximum Pay Is $20 Per Month

Federal aid for students at the state university this year will total $2,925 each month, the President's office announced yesterday. Announcement of successful student applicants will be made late this morning. The Deans will consider all applications this week. Funds will be given out this year under the National Youth administration, which replaces the recently-junked Federal Emergency Relief administration. The appropriation of $2,925 is nearly six hundred dollars above the monthly fund last year. A vastly increased registration last fall accounts for the increase in funds now.

The state university, in apportioning work and pay to students, cannot pay any student more than $20 each month, nor can the average pay be more than $15. Whether the average pay will be $15 depends upon the number of applications for work, the Deans' council said.

Funds will be given out in the same way they were last year, with the local organization composed of the Deans' council and Business Manager J. B. Speer, with the timekeeper appointed by the business manager. Pete Meloy replaces Phil Roberts as timekeeper.

All units of Montana's higher educational system will be granted funds on the same basis as that announced for the state university.

Applications for jobs are expected to exceed by far the number of jobs available.

Applicants must fall into three important classifications laid down by the NYA before federal aid can be extended to them. First, they must show clearly a need for such assistance; a need so great that without federal aid they would be unable to attend college. Second, they must be of good character and possess such ability as to give assurance that they will do high-grade work in college. This ability must be demonstrated during the course of the school year if the successful applicant is to continue to

NYA APPLICANTS REPORT

The following students are asked to report to the NYA office in the basement of Main hall as soon as possible:

George Kneipp, Neva Jones, Robert Janson, Basil Jacobson, Henry Hoellin, Beth Harwood, Lucy Handley, Lyle Haight, Oscar Gutormson, Alfred Graesser, Bill Flynn, Morris Farrell, Bradley Epstein, Ruth Custer, Clayton Craig, Zella Brasch, E. receive assistance. Third, the student must carry at least three-fourths of a normal student program of courses.

According to the requirements laid down by the NYA, no student may receive more than $20 each month. All work must be of a "socially desirable" nature but cannot include that which would be done ordinarily if federal funds were not available. The allotment cannot be used to replace college funds heretofore available for student aid.

No student will be allowed to work more than 30 hours of any week nor more than eight hours of any day. The rate of pay is the same as the institution usually pays for work of the type done. There is no discrimination between men and women students.

Student Union Building Dedication Ceremonies Are Now Being Arranged

New Center of Campus Activities to Be Officially Opened During Latter Part of Fall Quarter; Committee Hopes for November 22 Date

Possible further delay of furnishings and equipment for the new Student Union building makes it impossible to definitely announce the opening date of the structure, Professor Ernest Atkinson, chairman of the faculty committee, said last night. The committee, however, hopes that the dedication ceremonies will take place by November 22, it was learned.

Mrs. Alex Peterson Will Be Installed As Housemother by Sigma Nu Sunday

Acting President F. C. Scheuch to Be in Receiving Line At Function in Her Honor

Mrs. A. F. Peterson, prominent local matron and mother of two state university graduates, will be officially installed as housemother of the local chapter of Sigma Nu at a reception planned for next Sunday afternoon. More than two hundred friends of Mrs. Peterson and the fraternity are expected to greet her and pay their respects at that time. The reception will be held at the Sigma Nu chapter house at 1006 Gerald avenue.

During the summer Mrs. Peterson visited housemothers of fraternities in California, learning details of her new duties. She is the widow of Alex Peterson, prominent local druggist who died last January, and the mother of Francis Peterson, now owner of the Peterson Drug store in Missoula. Francis graduated from the state university in 1923. A nephew of Mrs. Peterson, Fred, also attended the university for several years. Mr. Peterson and Francis and Fred were members of the fraternity.

Acting President F. C. Scheuch, one of many friends of Mrs. Peterson, will be in the receiving line next Sunday at the reception in her honor. "I want to congratulate the Sigma Nu fraternity for starting this idea on the campus," the President said. "I believe that a housemother is just as necessary—perhaps more so—in a fraternity as in a sorority house. The installation of a housemother in any fraternity will do much toward building up the whole tone and morale of the chapter."

"I particularly wish to congratulate the Sigma Nus on their choice of a housemother. Eventually we may see all fraternities with housemothers, although some houses would have to do some remodeling to provide convenient quarters."

A New Era Dawns

It is with a good deal of pleasure that we welcome the large number of new and former students to the university and it is with a good deal of confidence that we look forward to a year promising to be the greatest in the history of the institution.

The university is no longer an infant in the field of education. With the beginning of its forty-first year of operation has come a long-awaited maturity. Enrollment figures hold promise of being the greatest in the 41 years, even surpassing the new high established last year and possibly sending the university into the 2,000 enrollment class for the first time.

On every hand there are changes and improvements which will tend to make university life of genuine educational as well as social benefit. A new Student Union building will be opened shortly, paving the way for the closer relationships between students, so long desired and so long lacking, to the detriment of all concerned. A new era of student government, bringing with it accord between the faculty and students, and providing a clearing house for student troubles, is about to take a permanent place on the Montana campus in the birth of the much-discussed student-faculty council.

A new coach, Doug Fessenden, is whipping his "New Deal" football team into shape and already Montana's formerly consistent cellar-dwellers have startled the football world from coast to coast with the exhibition they put on against the mighty men of Troy last Saturday. Gone are the days when the students could justly crab about their football team and the days when many of the gridiron mainstays spent a major portion of their time in the local barrooms.

For the seniors the prospects of securing jobs in their chosen professions are brighter than for the past several years and for the freshmen, nothing but four years of college, glorious under any conditions but particularly enhanced by present circumstances, are in store for them. For the needy students who a few years ago, battled the hungry wolf at every turn, there is the NYA to bring them a life of comparative ease.

This year should be one marked with stellar accomplishments by the university and its students. It is indeed the beginning of a new era which will reach its greatest heights in the advancement of the university to the rank of an outstanding school of national fame, closely rivaling its older and well-established eastern brother institutions. Before us stretches the year one of a great period. Let's take advantage of the opportunities and make it a memorable one.

WHEN CHANGING COURSES—

It's been tried a thousand times, and it's never worked yet. So says the Registrar's office about the habit of new students who simply don't go to classes when they want to drop them. There's a special form waiting at Window two in the Registrar's office for such cases, and students who wish to drop or add courses can do so this week without having to pay the one dollar fee demanded starting next Monday.

Students who register for a course and then do not formally drop it are given one of the regular grades at the end of the quarter—usually an F.

Of course upper class students know all about this. That's why the Registrar's office has so much trouble with upperclass students who forget to tell the office about their drops and adds.

During the first four weeks of the quarter freshmen and sophomore students may make changes of enrollment with the written approval of the instructor concerned, the adviser and the senior divisional adviser.

Senior divisional advisers are Dr. Lucia Mirreles and Prof. Paul Bischoff in the humanities division; Prof. J. W. Severy in the biological science division; Dr. J. W. Howard in the physical science division, and Dr. Harry Turney-High in the social science division.

During the first two weeks, juniors and seniors may make changes in their enrollment with the written consent of their adviser and the instructor concerned.

Many Students Attend Summer School Session

Numerous Out-of-State Men And Women Registered; 36 Degrees Given

Every one of Montana's 56 counties, half of the states of the union and one foreign country were represented at the 1935 summer session of the State University. The session was the best attended in history, 852 students taking work. Of these, 675 were women and 277 were men.

Missoula county, with 174, had the largest delegation at the summer session. Silver Bow county was second with 64, and Cascade and Yellowstone third, with 31 each. The counties of Lake, Carbon and Fergus had delegations totaling 24, 23, and 21 respectively, while Dawson and Valley tied with 19 each.

The attendance from other counties was as follows:

Custer, 18; Ravalli and Gallatin, 16 each; Blaine, 15; Lewis and Clark, 14; Deer Lodge, Hill and Musselshell, 13 each; Sheridan and Glacier, 12 each; Flathead, 11; Powell, 10; Choteau, Richland and Roosevelt, 9 each; Big Horn and Sanders, 8 each; Liberty, Lincoln and Rosebud, 7 each; Beaverhead, Granite, Jefferson, Madison and Pondera, six each; Stillwater, Wheatland and Daniels, 5 each; Judith Basin, Meagher, Prairie, Teton and Toole, 4 each; Broadwater, Garfield, Golden Valley, McCone, Mineral, Park and Petroleum, 3 each; Phillips, Powder River, Sweet Grass and Wibaux, 2 each, and Carter and Treasure, 1 each.

North Dakota with 46 and Minnesota with 11 lead the out-of-state registration. Illinois and Washington sent nine; Idaho, Wisconsin and Oregon, six each, and South Dakota and Iowa four each. Three students represented Kansas and two Missouri. California, Colorado, Delaware, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wyoming each had one representative on the campus during the summer session. Two students came from Canada.

The large out-of-state representation was due to the desire of many to combine their study in a recognized educational institution with a vacation in the west. Week-end trips to many points of scenic and historical interest were sponsored by the university. Faculty members were in charge of the trips which were taken at a reasonable cost to students making the journeys.

On the steps of University hall, the first building to be constructed on the campus, is held at irregular intervals during each school year the annual ceremony of Singing on the Steps.

U President Still Sought By Montana

Vacancy Created by Death of Dr. Clapp May Not Be Filled This Year

Montana state university probably will not have a new president before the first of the year, it was revealed by authoritative sources yesterday. Several men are being considered by the Board of Education, some applicants having been eliminated during the summer.

According to published reports, at least two out-of-state men have been considered to fill the vacancy created by the death last spring of Dr. Charles H. Clapp. The two men are Dr. C. V. Boyer, president of the University of Oregon, and Dr. James F. Zimmerman, president of the University of New Mexico.

Dr. Boyer was a recent visitor in Missoula where he met members of the Board of Education and university faculty members. Upon his return to Oregon he announced he would not leave the institution with which he is now connected.

Dr. Zimmerman has publicly denied the report that he is an applicant for the presidency of the state university.

German Colleges Are Regimented Says K. Rhude

State University Student at Heidelberg Contrasts Nazi and American University Life.

Nazi regimentation, especially as it affects Germany's youth, and Germany's colleges, presents a vivid contrast to American college life. So writes Kenneth Rhude, Missoula, a sophomore last year in the state university department of biology, who is attending the University of Heidelberg, Heidelberg, Germany, on a scholarship offered by the German government.

Rhude, in a letter to F. C. Scheuch, professor of foreign languages and acting president of the state university, has much to say regarding the hospitality shown to the American college student by the German people. He joined the "Heidelberg gruppe," group of approximately 80 American college students who are staying at the German institution, in New York, traveling with them across the Atlantic and to their destination in Germany.

"One of the most outstanding things I have noticed here is that everyone is regimented," Rhude writes. "Nearly every person wears some kind of uniform and marches to and from work. Troops drill on the streets and Nazi organizations parade and demonstrate every day. Propaganda is ripe and filters into everything, especially the academic lectures at the university. Everything is made quite pleasant for the students, however, and Americans are always preferred. All one has to do is wear one's student card and one may go anywhere.

"The people, on a whole, are nice and will do most anything for you. They are patient with the students' languages and help them as much as possible."

"As I write this letter, I can look out of my window and see a group of cadets parading. They are singing a song about 'the girl I left behind.' It is delightful harmony. Most of them are approximately 20 years old and they swing along as if they had been in the army all their lives. I am afraid we shouldn't be able to get the American boy to do that sort of thing."

Rhude shows considerable enthusiasm toward his work in the German institution and is highly appreciative of the efforts extended by Professor Scheuch in getting for him the German scholarship.

Old Students' Store to Go in Discard

When the new Student Union building is opened, this old shack, one of four in which students have shivered each winter for many years, will be discarded as a student retail center. The store will move into the ground floor of the new student building.

Opening of New Student Union Building To Bring Elaborate Administrative Set-up

Campus Government Enters Original Phase in Operation Of Large Recreational Structure

A new phase of student activity and government will be inaugurated on the campus of the state university this fall when the recently completed Student Union building is opened to become the center of all student activities. It is with the administration of the building that the new phase of student government will be concerned. Built on a Public Works administration grant and loan, the latter to be repaid entirely from student funds and building income, the use of the new structure will demand careful supervision.

A Student Union Executive committee, appointed by Acting President F. C. Scheuch, possibly will be enlarged to become a permanent governing group. The committee was originally appointed to formulate a plan for the management of the building.

The committee's original membership, Professor E. A. Atkinson, Professor Paul Bischoff and Professor A. K. Smith, may be retained on the committee as faculty representatives. Added to the group, plans call for one student representative to be appointed by Central board, student governing body; one alumni representative to be appointed by the president of the alumni association; one student representative to be appointed by the Associated Women Students, and a third student representative, who, temporarily at least, will be appointed by Central board.

The building will be managed by Kirk Badgley, university alumnus, who for the past several years has been assistant business manager of the university, instructor in the school of business administration, student auditor and athletic manager. Mr. Badgley, according to present plans, will be relieved of some of his other duties in order to take over the management of the building.

Philip Roberts, Helena, senior in the school of law, has been selected as assistant manager for the coming school year.

The cost of operating the building, including interest and the payment on the loan, during the 1935-36 school year is estimated at approximately $18,000. The money, it is hoped, will be raised through rentals and will be taken from student funds. The Associated Students' Store, to be housed on the first floor of the structure, will pay an annual rental. While no charges will be made for public exercises, convocations and rallies sponsored by student organizations and for which no admission charge is made, rentals from the auditorium alone are expected to bring in a sizeable sum. The ballrooms, which will make it possible for the first time in history for student groups to center their so-

Robinson Chosen Acting President Of Frosh Class

Robert Robinson, Kallspeil, was chosen temporary president of the freshman class at its first meeting held in the auditorium of University hall last Wednesday afternoon. Jack Muir, Great Falls, was elected vice-president; Dorothy Schaeffer, Missoula, was named secretary and Eleanor Reidy, Missoula, treasurer. A meeting to name the permanent officers will be held some time within the next thirty days.

A large portion of the record number of freshmen were present at the meeting, nominating and supporting a host of candidates before the eliminating processes began. Four candidates were put forward for president, more than three for vice-president, four for secretary and six for treasurer.

James Meyers, new president of the Associated Students of the University of Montana, presided at the meeting at which university officials and student officers extended an official welcome to the newcomers.

Commencement Program Best In U History

Nobel Prize Winner and Past President of University Return to Speak

The greatest commencement in history.

That is how the university and the state of Montana looked upon the 1935 graduating exercises which brought back to the campus a Nobel prize winner and a former state university president.

The Nobel prize winner is Harold Clayton Urey, who was graduated from Montana in 1917. Dr. Urey, now a professor of chemistry at Columbia university, is the discoverer of "heavy water". It was for his work with "heavy water" that Dr. Urey was recognized, first nationally when he was awarded the Willard Gibbs medal, and later internationally when he received the Nobel award in 1934.

The former university president was Dr. Edward O. Sisson, now president of Reed college and a nationally known educator. Dr. Sisson was elected president of the state university in 1917. He held the position for four years and was succeeded by the late President C. H. Clapp.

Dr. Sisson delivered the baccalaureate address to the graduating seniors, while Dr. Urey delivered the commencement address. The former was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of letters, the latter an honorary doctor of science degree.
One hundred and seventy seniors were graduated at the exercises.

More Farmers Receive Trees From Nursery

Record Number of Orders Pour Into Forestry School in 1935

Seven hundred and forty Montana farmers, 233 more than last year, received trees from the forestry school nursery at the state university this year. From the standpoint of orders received, 1935 was the biggest year in the history of the nursery, surpassing by 113 the number of orders received during the former banner year of 1931. The number of trees distributed, however, while higher than last year, was nearly 100,000 short of the 1931 total, showing that the number of trees per farm was considerably smaller. Two hundred and thirty thousand trees were sent out this year, compared to 322,000 in 1931.

The forestry school nursery distributes trees to Montana farmers through the Montana Extension service at cost of production.

Because of the emphasis being placed upon the source of seed for tree production, farmers are receiving a more hardy and a more drought-resistant stock. According to figures furnished by Irwin W. Cook, professor of forestry and director of the nursery, replacement orders have dwindled from 40 per cent of the 1931 orders to 5 per cent of the 1934 orders. Those in charge of the nursery are attempting to obtain seed from trees growing under environmental and climatic conditions similar to those of eastern Montana where most of the shelterbelts are being planted. Older planting stock which has been drought hardened one year is being sent out

R. O. T. C. Officers Obtain Promotions

Smith, Norris Advanced in Rank By War Department.

It will be Lieutenant-Colonel George L. Smith and Major G. N. Norris to the 1935 crop of Reserve Officers Training corps cadets at the state university. Both men, members of the military science staff, received promotions during the summer months. Lieutenant-Colonel Smith was promoted from his former rank of major while Major Norris formerly held the rank of captain.

Lieutenant-Colonel Smith has had many years of service as senior officer of the state university military science department. He was the ranking officer on the campus prior to the appointment of Major Frank Milburn as professor of military science and football coach in 1926. He was reassigned to the Montana campus after the departure of Major Milburn in 1931. Major Norris completed his first year of service on the university military staff last spring.

Sergeant Maywood Kirkwood, who has served at the university under both Lieutenant-Colonel Smith and Major Milburn, also will start the fall term with a higher rank. He was recently promoted from sergeant to staff sergeant.

and a better packing method has been adopted.

Caragana, Russian olive, green ash, Chinese elm, Colorado blue spruce, and American elm, in the order named, are the trees in the greatest demand. More than 70,000 caragana trees were ordered from the nursery this year, while the totals for Russian olive, green ash and Chinese elm were more than 20,000 each. More than 10,000 each of Colorado blue spruce and American elm were ordered by Montana farmers, and considerable demand was shown for the fast growing box elder, golden willow, laurel willow, native (broad leaf) cottonwood and northern poplar. Evergreens such as Black Hills Spruce, Douglas fir and western yellow pine have proved popular and approximately 500 orders have come in for miscellaneous plants.

With the co-operation of the United States Forest service and the United States Bureau of Plant Industry, the school of forestry nursery is experimenting with exotic (foreign) trees in an effort to find new varieties which will be adaptable to Montana.

It's "Colonel" Now

Lieutenant-Colonel George L. Smith, head of the department of military science, was promoted this summer from major to his present rank.

Enrollment Figures for 1934-35 Show Students from Many Counties, States

All of Montana's Subdivisions Represented Last Year While Many Come from Other Commonwealths To Take Up Their Studies.

All of Montana's 56 counties, 31 states, one territory, one insular possession and one foreign country were represented by the 2,359 students who attended the state university during the school year of 1934-35, figures released by the Registrar's office this summer revealed. Missoula county with 690, had the largest delegation. Ten other counties lined up in the following order: Silver Bow, 140; Cascade, 122; Yellowstone, 92; Flathead, 83; Ravalli, 68; Lewis and Clark, 54; Fergus, 50; Custer and Lake, 43 each, and Carbon, 40.

North Dakota had the largest out-of-state delegation, 41 students coming from Montana's eastern neighbor. Washington was represented by 22 students, Idaho by 17, Illinois by 15 and Minnesota by 12. Other states represented were Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming. A total of 197 students came to the state university from other states. The Territory of Hawaii was represented by two students, the Philippine islands by four. Canada, the only foreign country represented, had five students in attendance.

Men students outnumbered women students by 243. The total male registration was 1,301, the female registration, 1,058.

Richards Spends Summer in Plant Analysis Work

Research Expected to Aid Officials in Preventing and Controlling Forest Fires.

Research work, which, when carried through to a conclusion, is expected to add considerably to the store of information on prevention and fighting of forest fires, was conducted this summer by Dr. Leon Richards, professor in the school of pharmacy. Employed by the United States forest service, Dr. Richards spent most of the summer at the Priest River experiment station in Idaho.

Most of Dr. Richards' work was along the lines of plant analysis. During the summer nine common forest plants were analyzed at intervals of 10 days to determine, what if any, chemical changes take place during the fire season and when, and under what conditions, do the plants act as a fire retardant. The ultimate goal of the experimental work would be to make it possible for forest officials to determine immediately and at any time of the year, what plants are a fire menace and which ones can be depended upon to hamper the progress of forest fires.

Dr. Richards reports several spectacular tests made at Priest river during the summer among which was the simultaneous firing of controlled plots to obtain a comparison on the rate of spread of fire in various types of growth. The plots were fired under exactly the same conditions and a man was assigned to map the progress of the flames at specific intervals. A timekeeper was stationed close by to call out the intervals.

M Is Painted As Freshmen Dent Buckets

Some Three Hundred Work And Some Rest During Annual Task

The M got its whitewash and Perry Spark's bucket more dents last Saturday afternoon when approximately three hundred freshman men assembled on the west slope of Mount Sentinel to accomplish with enthusiasm a task that, a few years ago, demanded the persuasion of paddles in the hands of hard-hearted sophomores. There were slackers as always, but interested observers were unanimous in their opinion that seldom, if ever, has the vertical trail to the M been trod by a larger or more eager herd of troth.

It was nearly 2 o'clock before the traditional ceremony got underway but as the clock in Main hall tower struck the hour, Montana's new crop of first year students hove into sight from all directions to assemble behind the east bleachers of Dornblaser field.

Fifteen minutes later the painting crew of approximately 50 had scaled the slope and were standing on the block letter shouting for whitewash. As usual it took the efforts of three or four freshmen to mix the whitewash, fifty more stood around the mixing tub at the foot of the slope directing operations. But there were plenty to spare. Those who take their traditions seriously and those who have a leaning toward mountaineering crawled to their posts on the hillside and soon had the whitewash literally flowing uphill.

Because it's a law with no technicalities, gravity, for the uptight time, failed to return the empty buckets to the source of supply. Mount Sentinel slopes northwest from the M and liberated buckets, tossed casually down the hill invariably ended in the Prescott orchard. Had it not been for one freshman, into whose heart darted the spirit of "do or die for good old '35" the job may never have been completed. Alone he sped over the treacherous slope gathering buckets

Seven New Instructors Are Selected to Serve On University Faculty

Mrs. Mary Ferguson Is Now in Dean of Women's Chair; Fessenden, Heinsch, Vinal, Whicker, Spaulding, Lake Comprise Other Replacements

Seven new faculty members, five of them products of Montana's educational system, were added to the staff of the state university during the summer months and have assumed their duties. Two of the new staff members have been assigned to the department of physical education, two to the department of English, one to Latin and humanities, one to economics and sociology and one to administrative work. All the appointments have been approved by the state board of education.

Mrs. Mary Elrod Ferguson has been appointed acting dean of women to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Harriet Rankin Sedman. Mrs. Sedman was married in London last July 11 to Alexander Grant McGregor. Mrs. Ferguson received her bachelor of science degree from the state university in 1911 and a master of arts degree in personnel administration from Columbia university, New York, in 1934. She has had three and a half years experience in the dean of women's office besides two years on the biology department staff. She completed her secondary education at Missoula county high school.

Douglas Fessenden, former football coach at Fenger high school, Chicago, has been assigned to the department of physical education, replacing Bernard F. Oakes, now head coach at Colorado university. Fessenden takes over the work as professor of physical education and football coach. He was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1925 and has coached at both San Antonio and Brownville, Texas.

Miss Marguerite Heinsch will replace Jere Mickel as instructor in Latin and humanities. Mr. Mickel resigned last spring to continue his graduate study. Miss Heinsch was graduated from Deer Lodge high school before coming to the state university where she received both a bachelor's and master's degree in Latin. During the past two years she has been studying toward a doctorate at the University of Chicago. She was a graduate assistant in Latin here in 1931-32 and was on the instructional staff of the University of Chicago last year.

The position of instructor and acting head of the women's division in the physical education department, left vacant by the resignation of Miss Ruth Nickey, is filled by Miss Leslie Vinal. Miss Nickey was married recently to Dr. E. S. Weyer of Billings. Miss Vinal received her bachelor's degree from the state university in 1928 and has done graduate study at both the University of Wisconsin and the University of Washington. For two years she was director of the girls' and women's department of the Great Falls Y. M. C. A. and taught for one year in the Detroit, Michigan, public schools. She spent another two years as instructor in the Central Y. W. C. A. in Detroit and two years as instructor and director of girls' physical education at Fergus county high school, Lewistown. She was graduated from Flathead county high school, Kalispell.

Registration Records

Brown and Leithead Rump Past Barriers Set in Way By Registrar's Staff.

New intercollegiate registration records were established Thursday at the men's gymnasium by members of the class of '39. Miss Marian Brown, Missoula, emerged victorious from the mob of would-be advisers, checking clerks and money grabbers who are reputed by various and sundry of autumn registrants to put that celebrated penurious gentleman, Shylock, to shame, in the amazing and sensational time of one hour and 17 minutes flat. Thus Miss Brown became the first freshman to become regularly enrolled in the state university for 1935.

However, the shades of night were falling fast e'er Mr. Horace Leithead of Manderson, Wyo., managed to comply with all regulations. Having failed to pull what is designated as a whizzer on the alert registration staff by filling out his cards at cetera in pencil instead of the required pen and ink, Master Leithead was prevailed upon to go through the long and laborious procedure all over again. 'Twas ten minutes lacking of six when he had fulfilled all necessary details.

Interscholastic Queen Back to Enter School

D. Quaintance and B. Brinck Successful Entries Last Year, Enroll

Somewhere in the long line of freshman registrants last Thursday were Doris Quaintance of Boulder and Barbara Brinck of Missoula. Last May they were queen and princess, respectively; they were feted by the state university student body, they dined and danced and witnessed the Thirty-second Interscholastic Track and Field meet from the president's box, reviewed the R. O. T. C. and passed in review before the crowded stands of Dornblaser field. Last week they were just two more freshmen. Registration levels all comers.

Both girls were chosen by their respective high school student bodies as entries in the interscholastic queen contest sponsored by the Associated Students of the University of Montana. Their pictures were submitted along with many others to a committee of Missoula photographers, who selected five to make the trip to Missoula and the interscholastic meet with their expenses paid by the A. S. U. M. Miss Quaintance and Miss Brinck were among the five successful entries. At a banquet held in the Florence hotel, Miss Quaintance was named queen of the interscholastic meet.

Now they're back again. This time as students.

Mrs. G. Austin Hole of Seattle has taken the position of house mother at the Delta Delta Delta house for the coming year.

Education Heads Hold Conference

Dr. N. D. Showalter of Washington Leads Discussion

The annual conference of the superintendents and principals of Montana public schools was held at the state university July 8, 9 and 10 for the purpose of discussing the educational problems.

The conference, which was under the supervision of Dr. Freeman Daughters, dean of the education school, provided a special feature for the summer students of education.

Speakers of the conference were N. D. Showalter, state superintendent of public instruction, Washington; Alfred Atkinson, president of Montana State college; Sheldon E. Davis, president of Montana normal college; Lynn

D. McMullen, president of Eastern Montana normal school; Payne Templeton, principal of Flathead county high school, Kalispell, and M. P. Moe, secretary of the Montana Education association.

Distance Runners Seek Competition

Will Angle Vandals and Bobcats For Cross-Country Meets

Started last year after a long period during which it was not held, cross-country racing is this year again facing the danger of being dropped.

Last year through the efforts of Harry Adams, the Athletic board and Kirk Badgley, a cross-country race was arranged between the Grizzly and Bobcat distance runners at the Butte game. Expenses were small due to excursion rates and special trains, but as the annual Butte game comes much earlier this year, such an opportunity cannot be taken.

Nothing definite has been decided about what is to be done with the eager Grizzly distance runners as yet but plans are being laid for possible cross-country races with either the Idaho Vandals or the Montana Bobcats. Awaiting something definite, the cross-country enthusiasts are starting work and hope to round into competitive condition within a few weeks.

Douglas Fessenden's Grizzlies Drop Close Struggle With Trojans

Montana Holds Mighty Men of Troy to 9 to 0 Score In Opening Coast Conference Fray; Popovich Breaks Loose Twice During Game

Montana Grizzlies, under the direction of their Supreme Court approved coach, Doug Fessenden, dropped their first Coast Conference game to the Southern California Trojans Saturday, to the tune of 9-0. Picked to be steamrolled into the turf by the powerful men of Troy, anywhere from 21 to 60 points, the score came as a surprise to everyone except the genial head coach and his players.

The game was played in nearly perfect weather before a crowd of 30,000 rabid fans who cheered wildly for the deferred Trojan comeback. They later diverted their energies to catcalls at the officials for the numerous deserved penalties.

In the first quarter, Milton Popovich raced around end for 79 yards and a touchdown but was called back for stepping out of bounds on his flight. The speedy sophomore had perfect blocking on his run.

Belko Boots Field Goal.

The initial score came when Trojan Max Belko stepped back and booted a perfect field goal from the 31-yard line. Montana elected to receive. After an attempt to gain through the U. S. C. line, Popovich punted to Thompson, who made a short return. Succeeding penalties against the Grizzlies placed the ball in scoring territory where Cliff Probst plunged over from the six-yard line. Both scores came in the second quarter.

The remainder of the game was played in Montana territory with the Grizzlies battling the entire second half in the shadow of their goal posts. The Montanans refused to yield to the Trojan manpower and the second quarter scoring finished their counters for the afternoon.

The game was spotty and the only relief for the coaches was the vicious tackling displayed by both teams, with Montana having the upper hand in savagery.

The Grizzlies proved that their defense can hold up against first class competition, but the offense must be polished before Montana will become a real threat in the conference.

Grizzlies Reveal Stubbornness

The game also proved that the Grizzlies have the stick-to-it-iveness that characterizes winning teams, when they failed to crack under the Trojan onslaught. Four times in the last half the Trojans pushed the ball inside the Grizzly five-yard line but could not penetrate the massed Montana defense.

The Trojans showed occasional flashes of the power that fans have grown to expect from them, but most of their strength lay in a hard charging, well-drilled line.

During the afternoon the referee paced off 95 yards against Montana in penalties and 70 against the Trojans.

Coach George Ring Reports Favorable Outlook For Team

Marionette Show Plays Tomorrow At Missoula High

American Association of U. Women
Sponsors Los Angeles
Puppet Artists.

The famous Olvera street marionettes of Los Angeles, presenting Mark Twain's Immortal "Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer," will play at Missoula county high school auditorium Wednesday, sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

A novel feature of this production is the fact that all the leads are played by portrait puppets of popular movie stars. Movie star puppets of Jackie Cooper as Tom, Mickey Rooney as Huck, Shirley Temple as Becky Thatcher, Stepin' Fetchit as Negro Lemuel, and Edna May Oliver as Aunt Polly, are featured in the cast. There will be more than one hundred large marionettes in the cast, a big stage with gorgeous colorful scenery, elaborate lighting effects, and amplifiers so that everyone in the auditorium will be able to see and hear the marionettes that walk, talk, sing, play instruments, do circus tricks, provide grand entertainment, and make real the immortal story of Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn.

An added feature to the 7 o'clock show will be the "Marionette Circus." The 8:30 o'clock show includes the "Continental Variety Show" with eight acts.

At University of Minnesota

Harold Tascher, assistant professor in economics and sociology at the state university, gained senior membership in the American Association of Social Workers during the past summer as a result of his teaching work at the University of Minnesota. He conducted a course in the training school for social and civic workers in the Minnesota department of sociology. A class of 50 students, most of whom were college graduates attending the University of Minnesota with the aid of FERA scholarships, took work from Mr. Tascher during the six weeks course.

Following the close of the session, Mr. Tascher visited the Universities of Chicago and Illinois. He returned to Missoula by way of Cedar Falls, Iowa, where he was formerly an instructor on the faculty of Iowa State Teachers' college. He also visited the Black Hills, the Big Horn mountains and Yellowstone park.

Oakes' Colorado Team Defeated in First Game

B. F. "Bunny" Oakes, former football mentor at the state university, is now coaching at the University of Colorado, where he lost his first game to the University of Oklahoma, Saturday, 2 to 0. Oakes' Buffaloes, showing an impressive offensive game, left the game losers only on the score board.

Oakes, who served as head coach for the Grizzlies four years, resigned his position and left to accept the coaching post in Colorado last March.

Rushes Pay Pan-Hell Fee For Privilege

Women Assessed New Tax

"The two dollar fee system for sorority rushing has proven exceptionally successful in its initial year," was the statement issued today by Marylys Marra, president of the Pan-Hellenic council.

All women wishing to be rushed pay two dollars to the council to cover the costs of the week. Sororities may choose their rushes only from the list of those who have paid the charges. The money obtained under this fee is used to defray various expenses of

"Sororities have paid large sums to entertain women who have no intentions of pledging," Miss Marra said, "and this discourages the practice."

The system was adopted for the Montana campus after it had been proven successful at larger institutions throughout the country. Schools that advised local Pan-Hellenic officers to give the system a trial included U. C. L. A., University of Washington and Montana State college.

and Ben Taylor, Troy, represented the Ninth Corps area R. O. T. C. rifle team in the national rifle matches which took place at Camp Perry, Ohio, during September.

Haugen earned his place in the team by firing the high score at Fort George Wright in competition with 118 cadets from five collegiate institutions. As a result of early work at Camp Perry during the small arms firing school, Haugen was selected as team captain and served in that capacity during the duration of the matches.

Taylor was second to Haugen at Fort Wright, firing one point less and tying with Richard Evans of the University of Wyoming. Both were members of the Ninth Corps area team at Camp Perry in the national match.

Thirteen men from the Ninth Corps area were selected to fire in the matches, the high 10 in the national individual match being selected for the team in the national match. After two days of firing the western R. O. T. C. team finished fourth among the R. O. T. C. units.

Competitors at the small arms firing school were awarded certificates of proficiency as instructors in rifle marksmanship.

Franklin Spencer, Great Falls, former state university football tackle, was a campus visitor last week.
